DID YOU KNOW

Uzbekistan is one of two doubly-landlocked countries in the world. To get to the open sea, one would need to cross two other countries first. The only other doubly-landlocked country is Liechtenstein.

Uzbeks always negotiate prices before buying something. It may seem funny but both sellers and buyers love doing it. Any purchase is not a good purchase if it is bought without bargaining. So, when you look for souvenirs or fruit on the market, make sure you get 10%-20% off the price.

Uzbekistan's signature dish is plov (also called palov or pilaf), a main course classically made with rice, meat, yellow and orange carrots and onions. There are dozens of plov recipes from all over Uzbekistan. Though the same ingredients are used across the country, cooking methods vary from region to region. Try plov in Tashkent, Samarkand, Bukhara, Shakhrisabz, Khiva, and the Fergana Valley and see if you can choose your favorite one.

Samarkand bread does not get stale for many days if stored in a cloth bread bag. Uzbeks always bring bread from Samarkand to their families as a souvenir. The best places to buy bread are Siyob Market and Tashkent Street in Samarkand.

- Impressive picture at sunrise and sunset, when the white rocks are painted in purple colors

ABOUT THIS TOUR

This three-day Aral Sea tour from Tashkent is the best tour for those who want to experience Uzbekistan in full, and go deeper into different aspects of this beautiful country. Even just fifty years ago, the Aral Sea was such a big saltwater lake straddling the border between Uzbekistan and Kazakhstan, that it had to be called a sea. As the sea began to recede, it left fishing villages far from the water and revealed the strange contours of the Aral Desert and the Ustyurt Plateau. Ships were left stranded, gathered into graveyards, and left to rust; communities that remembered the rich marshland ecosystems were suddenly surrounded by desert. A trip to the Aral Sea can be saddening, since it shows how much damage humans can create, yet the landscapes have an eerie and haunting beauty that will stay with you for long after you finish this tour.

MOUNT ARARAT, WHERE NOAH LANDED HIS ARK AS TOLD IN THE BIBLE, IS AN IMPORTANT SYMBOL FOR ARMENIA. ALTHOUGH THE MOUNTAIN ITSELF IS IN TURKEY, THE SPIRITUAL SIGNIFICANCE OF MOUNT ARARAT REMAINS STRONG IN ARMENIA, A COUNTRY WITH DEEP CHRISTIAN ROOTS.

THE APRICOT IS ANOTHER IMPORTANT SYMBOL, AND IS THE NATIONAL FRUIT OF ARMENIA. APRICOT WOOD IS USED TO MAKE THE DUDUK, AN ANCIENT DOUBLE-REED WOODWIND INSTRUMENT THAT IS ANOTHER SYMBOL OF ARMENIA'S CULTURE.

“ - Julianna Keyes, USA -

The tour was a dream come true. Everything was amazing. I loved the small group, the local guides, the flexibility in the schedule, etc. This was the best group travel experience, I've ever had.

“ - Wynoma De Faria, India -

It was our second with Advantour. First of all on behalf of the group our thanks to Yuriy for having organised a superb travel of the 03 Caucasian countries Azerbaijan, Georgia, and Armenia for a group of 16 pax for 15 days. It was Yuriy's quick reply to my first mail that made me confirm the destination and then the agency, 15 months before our trip started. Wasn't sure what to expect as not many people have been to these countries undiscovered by tourists.

It was much more than I expected... grandiose places, full of history culture, different food etc one has to visit these countries now before they are exploited by mass tourism.

I have exchanged uncountable mails with Yuriy wrt to hotels, sites, prices etc etc but there was a prompt reply to all the queries, you are amazing Yuriy.

I had no apprehension at all...and right enough from the airport PICK-UP to all land travel may be over 2000 kms to airport DROP we had no problem at all with transportation not even a tyre puncture...the buses and drivers were very good and drove us diligently over the Caucasian mountain gorges and plains.

The hotels were good too, and as requested for central locations all were superbly located and better than reviews, specially the Shah Palace Hotel in Baku, and Aviatran in Yerevan and Mirhav in Goris were excellent.

The guides too were extremely knowledgeable, well versed in their matter with good diction and experienced in their profession and answered all our questions. Patient as well to handle a group of 16, Seymour of Baku, Anna of Georgia and Nune of Yerevan were just top of the line.

The sites included were also well chosen by Advantour, bear in mind that visiting these countries involves a lot of bus travel as one has to move out of the city.

The dinners organised in Tblisi and Yerevan were of high standard with an insight to the folk and food culture of the country, do include one in Baku as well...it completes the cultural experience.

Thanks for your effort to get our Armenia Visas, got it at the nick of time, we were under lot of stress due to this delay. Travellers from India please contact your agent as soon as you submit your visa application to the Armenian consulate in Delhi as it is imminent that you won't get your visas without their help.

We enjoyed every bit of the tour to wine tasting, cognac tasting, mud volcanoes, monasteries etc etc and God willing will visit again. I highly recommend Advantour...organisation good and price good. Thank you Yuriy and your team.

“ - Tova and Zvi Tauber, Israel -

Thank you very much for organizing a magnificent tour for us.

Starting with the group: we were 7 people representing 4 continents, the span of ages was 33 to 76, and with all these differences, we got along very good and had a great time together.

The program was also very good, we managed to cover in a relatively short time the most important attraction in Uzbekistan.

The hotels were OK, some very good, some could be better.

Last but not least our guide Mirza, a wonderful person, a lot of knowledge, very good English. He did his job in a very interesting way and was not a burden on us, he took us to nice local restaurants, shops and we had a very good time with him.
